CNC APPOINTS TOM BUCHANAN AS MANAGING PARTNER

London, 01 March 2016: In a further move to strengthen its senior team, CNC - Communications & Network Consulting, the international strategic communications firm, today announces the appointment of Tom Buchanan as a joint Managing Partner.

Tom will be based in the London office and brings with him more than twenty years of communications experience advising companies in the UK, USA, Continental Europe and Asia on their corporate and financial communications, mergers and acquisitions, IPOs as well as crisis and reputation management.

Tom joins CNC's leadership team in London from Tulchan. Prior to this he was Senior Partner at Maitland and a partner at Brunswick. Drawing on his experience as a senior advisor, Tom's role will involve developing CNC's offer to UK clients while strengthening the firm's international network.

Bernhard Meising, Chief Executive Officer at CNC said today: "Tom is one of the most experienced and respected advisors operating in the London market today, so we are delighted he is joining CNC to support our ambitious growth plans there and around the world. His expertise complements the existing team that we have in place, which has already enjoyed a great start to 2016."

Tom Buchanan added "I am very excited by the prospect of joining CNC which has a very strong international brand, and a network of consultancies in the key markets across the world. I look forward to working with the team to strengthen our offer to UK companies, while leveraging my international experience to advise companies on cross border projects."
